SIMPLY PRUDENT.

I told her and had a moment there.
Yielding and warm and white.
And then let go, for don't you know,
Somebody turned up the light.

E. H. Dempsey has been appointed Postmaster at Olive Hill.

There's a letter in the Postoffice for Putnam, Hooker & Co. of Cincinnati.

During the four days of the Fair street cars will not run below the Postoffice after 12:30 p. m.

Special low prices on Refrigerators, this week only. Blietwetter & Co., No. 212 Market street.

Danville is to have a telephone company and exchange and have the instruments at $2 per month.

Frank Owens Hardware Co. have just received a large stock of Pocket and Table Knives, Scissors and Razors. Call and see prices.

Mrs. George Barcroft has rented the Hill House and is prepared to furnish meals by the day, week or month. Also furnished rooms.

Versalles pays $1,600 a year for sixteen electric lights, moon schedule. Stores pay $50 a year for arc lights, burning from 6 p. m. to midnight.

S. P. Browning will accept the offer to teach higher mathematics and German in a Georgia academy near Macon, and will leave about the 27th inst. for his new field.

Price Newman, one of the most widely known of Louisville's business men, was stricken by apoplexy Monday while descending the stairway of the Willard Hotel and died in a few minutes.

Readers who will have guests during the Fair are courteously requested to send their names and place of residence to THE LEDGER, thus: "Miss Maymye Jones of Andalusia, Pa., is a guest of Miss Myrnyne Myddletay of East Eleventh street."

W. T. Rosenberger, one of the oldest freight conductors in these parts, who has been connected with the C. & O. since its completion, died at Covington, aged 59. His death was the result of an accident which occurred near this city a year ago.

The tin racehorses were among the first prizes for the Fair, and we would so like some one to tell us why it isn't just as legal to put your money on "Strong Boy" in that ring as it is to buy a pool on "Shorty" in the other. What tin hair-splitting these moralists do have, to be sure!

IT'S SO IF IT'S IN THE LEDGER.

The Blue Ribbon Fair is ripe today.

The Richmond Fair just closed closed $1,000.

There were 10,000 buckets of blackberries marketed at Winchester this season.

Hiram Taylor, now with Browning & Co., will take a place with F. B. Ranson & Co.

John Clark, father of Mrs. John Fanaler of this city, died at Higginsport, aged 57.

The Lewis County Democrats will hold a useless county convention on the 20th of this month.

The Governor offers $100 for the arrest of Charles Riggs, charged with assault in Marion county.

Rev. William Grubbs, once stationed at the M. E. Church, South, here, died at Russellville, aged 79.

A negro was arrested at the Richmond Fair Saturday with only eleven razors in his pockets—a very sharp negro.

Gasoline stoves, best in the world, at specially low prices to close out. Blietwetter & Co., No. 212 Market street.

Wyatt Roberson and Miss Sarah Lewis, both colored, were married last evening at the residence of the groom by Rev. Alexander McDaniel.

Ladies attending the Fair will find that C. D. Shepard has erected a handsome soda fountain on the Grand Stand Promenade for their benefit.

The internal revenue receipts in this city for July were $30,109.95—the largest of any previous month. This was owing to the great amount of whisky forced out of bond.

J. P. Singleton, formerly of Flemingsburg, will wed Miss Nellie Fitch of Louisville in a few days at Geneva, Switzerland. They have been traveling in Europe since last spring.

The Loring and Leslie combination at the Opera-house every night this week. Among the leading attractions are Miss Alice Hasson and Miss Proctor, the latter only 11 years old and a clever dancer. Popular prices.

The Delmonico is in full blast, and Colonels J. Phisterson Wallacendi and James Wallacendi will fill the inner man without depleting his Treasury below the reserve necessary to maintain the parity between grub and gelt.

Major Drury J. Burchett of Lawrence, Colonel Worthington of Greenup, R. C. Burns of Catlettsburg, John P. McCartney of Fleming and William H. Cox of this city are mentioned as Republicans from whom to select a candidate for Mr. Paynter's unexpected term.

Departed for Ruggles Camp-meeting this morning: Rev. G. R. Pronger, Presiding Elder, Covington, Ky.; Rev. Amos Boring and son Vincent of Dayton, Ky.; Mrs. Richard Griffith and little son Richard of Indianapolis, Ind.; Miss Carrie Belle Mord of Covington; Alonzo Seaman of Oklahoma; Professor Bloom and family, Mrs. Jane Morris, Mrs. W. L. Davidson, Miss May Lane and Miss Mary Rudy of this city.

Run! Run! Run!
We are making a home run on Ice Cream Freezers this week only. Blietwetter & Co., No. 212 Market street.

HOW IS THIS?

An Echo From a Recent Outrage By Covington Roadies.

Covington Commonwealth.
John Wessell, the delegate to the Augusta Convention who was thrown from the train by some of Mr. Goebel's delegates, is improving. His shoulder is badly sprained and his arm and hand cut and bruised by coming in contact with a wire fence. Wessell says he was thrown from the train by Fire Chief Meyers and Murphy, a member of the Fire Department. If this is true, these officials ought to be investigated. What they did was done after the Convention and the attendant excitement was over. City officers engaging in such conduct, no matter whatever the provocation, should be dealt with as the law directs. They had no business at the Convention in the first place.

If it will aid The Commonwealth and The Ledger might give it a "tip."

Suppose you apply the pump and see if Senator Goebel didn't telegraph Chief Myers somewhat after this fashion:

"We need protection. Come up in the morning and bring enough men to protect us."

This on Wednesday evening, July 23th.

The entire stock of goods belonging to John Dingers at East Fork was stolen, and the only way he had to tell there ever was a store by the house being left.

BEGAN THE WORK.

What the Broken Ground on the New Little and Big Sandy.

In answer to inquiry, the Editor of dirt when the first shovel full of Mayville and Big Sandy was thrown the C. & O.—was begun.

The ground was broken by the Western terminus of the cut just above George T. Wood's barn in the Fifth Ward.

The first shovel full of dirt was thrown at 9:55 a. m. Wednesday, 23d, 1886, and the second, a mile later, was thrown by D. Rice Bullock of Portland, Oregon.

The venerable Tim McLaughlin, who had the contract, was amused at the Editor's struggle with the earth and truthfully remarked that in the Editor's hands the pen was mightier than the pick when it came to building railroads.

DOWN THEY WENT

The Visitors Simply Walked All Over the Regulars.

Well, Georgetown made it hot and hazy.

The locals' inability to hit Daniels at critical times lost them the game yesterday.

The bases were loaded on two occasions, with two out, but the required hit was not forthcoming.

And then several of the locals concluded to take a day off.

To say Bruner's support was ragged would be drawing it mild indeed—it was rotten.

Davis' work at second was very yellow, and he ran bases like a sunambulist.

While Bruner's support was off, his work in the third inning didn't give his field any encouragement. He floated one up and Ramp hit it down hard to McDaniel, who fumbled it long enough to allow the runner to reach first. Bruner then made a wild pitch and Ramp took second.

The next batter up hit a little one to Bruner. It was dead easy, but he fumbled it, and the runner took a base. This seemed to take the starch completely out of the locals, and they let go all bolts.

Nie caught another good game for Mayville.

The locals got a tally in the first. Cox flew out to third; McDaniel worked his base on balls and stole second; he started to pitch third; Yost threw wild to head him off, and he went on home.

The visitors tied the score in their half. Ramp hit to third; McDaniel threw wild to first, and the runner kept to second; Daniels then hit a beauty over short for a base, and Ramp crossed the plate.

The got their second and last run in the third. Rudy hit past second for a bag; Cox flew out to center; McDaniel struck out; Hill hit to third and reached first on Reeder's error; Rogers hit into right for a single, and Rudy trotted home.

The visitors accumulated four runs in their half on two doubles and three errors. Reeder's hit into center for a base, Tenley's jolt into right for a single and Davis' wild throw gave Georgetown a run in the fifth. Two bases on balls, singles by Moore and Tenley and Ramp's scorcher past third for a base gave the visitors two more scores in the eighth.

ISN'T IT FUNNY?

This Man Comes Near Being His Own Grandfather.

Christian Merz, who runs a grocery and daily meat market at No. 541 West Fifth street, Cincinnati, is married to his own sister's daughter.

The facts were all known and there was perfect agreement on all sides before the marriage took place.

But the funny part of it is the queer relation of the three out of the union. Merz is his wife's uncle, and his mother-in-law's brother; his wife is his niece and her mother's sister-in-law; he is his own nephew, and also his own uncle.

While his wife is his own aunt and her niece, children of the couple would be nephews of their father, while their grandmother would be their aunt.

The Sinking Fund
democratic Kentucky
factory for a furniture plant in the Penitential House. It is proposed to employ labor in making a cheap of furniture and it is believed that will add about $5,000 per month to the depleted coffers of the Kentucky Treasury. Oh, how these Democrats do show their love for honest workmen!

The much promised Democratic Tariff Reform is to end in a triumph for the Sugar and Whisky Trusts or there will be no tariff legislation. Should the tariff bill be defeated and the McKinley I stand, the next House, should be Republican, will vote to remove the duty on refined sugars and permit the Trust to get along as best it can without any discrimination in its favor. The exercise of its methods has made it unpopular, and it will have to suffer.

On the 18th of July Governor Hogg of Texas predicted that within six weeks marital law would be declared in California, Kansas, Colorado, Illinois, and that the Anarchists of Chicago would use dynamite and "bespatter the lofty buildings of the city with the hearts, lungs and livers of citizens."

He alluded to President CLEVELAND having ordered the troops there, and Judge COOLEY's letter commendatory of the acts, and said "he felt humiliated over it, as it was a dangerous invasion of state rights, and had not been done before since 1890."

The question naturally arises, "Where was Hogg when the war went on?" or did he ever hear of that little disagreement?

THE Boston Journal has been figuring it out and finds that there are now in this country the enormous total of 9,000-000 men of military age eligible for military service, and proudly remarks that "no other civilized country in the world could place such a gigantic host of men in the field in an emergency." In addition to the 25,000 regulars and the naval forces, there are over 112,000 men now enrolled in the militia of the several states. All these are at once available, and if not sufficient for any emergency that might arise, ten times their number could be mustered in a very short time. So when the foreign press flippantly remarks that Uncle Sam has no military it fools itself, but it doesn't fool the military in any foreign country. Not much. The great Captains over the water had their eyes boggled out pretty big when they saw 8,000,000 men under arms during the Civil War in this country. They now how much greater our population is now than it was then, and they know that this country could, if necessary, mass a military force strong enough to —well, to take care of the United States of America anyhow.

It is far superior to "Marr

THE DEADLOCK.

Three Sessions of Majority Conference Held Tuesday.

Each Side Stubbornly Refused to Weaken in Its Demands.

Senator Bruce Says the Deadlock Will Be Broken, But How or When? Instead Cleveland is Taking an Active Part in the Fight.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—It looks more and more as if there would be no parent legislation at this session of congress. Two weeks ago the conference was called, but the house and senate were not in agreement. The conference agreed? The question night took the form: Should we be no bill whatever? Instead of an alternative of the senate. Nothing, the problem has been solved. The McKinley law is now on the statute books.

The conference between the democratic and republican conferees committed to the conference Tuesday throughout the session, not one of the fully attended. The bureau reports that the senate stood firm, and that the house refused to yield to the senate at the deadlock was apparently confirmed.

Senator Bruce, who is one of the democratic managers whose business it is to see that forty-three votes necessary to pass the bill are retained in the senate, said today:
"The deadlock continues, but, of course, all deadlocks must reach an end. Just what kind of an end this deadlock will reach I can not predict.
I am only certain that the deadlock will not be broken in any way which will not hold forty-three votes in the senate, unless the bill is to be killed."
"That is a self-evident proposition.
There are many secret negotiations going on, but I do not concern myself about them. The only point about which I am anxious is whether the bill reported by the conference will be one that can pass the senate."
"President Cleveland is taking an active interest in the fight between the house and senate. The attitude of Mr.
Cleveland is that the house conferees shall insist upon free coal and free iron-ore, and that the sugar schedule shall be modified so as to disguise its most objectionable features from the American public, while at the same time it shall not so seriously offend the sugar trust, to whose coffers Mr. Cleveland is so deeply indebted for his re-election."
"At the same time Mr. Cleveland is represented as saying to those in his confidence that if his own will can not be carried out to the tariff, he would prefer to have no tariff legislation whatever. The president would prefer to have the bill fail in conference rather than be forced to the humiliation of affixing his signature to the senate bill, which has been denounced as denoting party infamy and party dishonor."

The distinct belief is that continued disagreement between the democratic conferees will be kept up with a great show of hostility until the latter part of this week. In the meantime representatives of the administration are keeping firebrands of denunciation at the senate, while under cover of this noise negotiations for a surrender by the house will be conducted.

Chicago Merchants Favor Congress to Consider Methods of Conciling.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—Pursuant to a call issued by a committee appointed by Lyman J. Gage, president of the Civic federation, a conference was held Tuesday evening at the rooms of the Commerce club, at which a number of persons discussed the advisability of a congress to consider possible methods of settling the tariff. The conferees and orators. The conferees were attended by several Chicago capitalists and a number of labor leaders, and representatives of the railroads, who had been cordially invited, were conspicuous by their absence.

The total attendance at the conference was about twenty-five persons, and with one exception they favored the calling of a congress. There is little doubt that such a course will be pursued, and the time will be set for November.

The congress is to be a national affair, and representatives of all large corporations, men who employ a large force of assistants, and delegates from all labor unions will be invited to attend.

OUT OF THE USUAL.

Strikers' Wives Attack a Miner and He Shoots One of Them.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 1.—As has been feared would be the case, blood flowed Tuesday morning when the miners started to work in the Padermine.
One of the miners named James Myers, who, with a number of others, had previously been commissioned and armed as a deputy, while on his way to the mine was approached by Jennie Jones, wife of a striker.

The woman attempted to take Myers' dinner pail from him, when he turned and fired, the ball lodging in her shoulder. Excitement among the miners is intense and more trouble is expected.

The story of an eye witness is that several women had surrounded Myers and were pelting him with stones, when he fired in self-defense. The engineer of a local street car was shot at Tuesday morning, the ball grazing his head.
